

Valuations at Venduehuis The Hague

Verbal valuations at one of our offices and during valuation events

We appraise a limited quantity of goods, free of charge, at one of our offices on work days and during external valuation events in the country.

Online valuations

Please ensure your digital photos of the object(s) to be examined are clear and sharp. Make sure you also send pics of any marks present, signatures, gold and silver hallmarks and/or of any visible damages. Always state in your e-mail the sizes and other relevant information on the object including material and provenance.

We would like to ask you to send your e-mail with the digital photographs to info@venduehuis.com. Your e-mail will then be sent to the appropriate expert(s). We strive to give you an answer within two weeks. This valuation is free of charge for a limited quantity of goods.

Verbal valuations at home or on location

If you are considering auctioning large part of your art and/or antiques collection, or even the whole collection, our experts can come to your house or any location to discuss and agree the sales opportunities. Costs for home visits are €150,- for the first hour or part thereof, €75,- for each additional hour, plus travel allowance costs of €0.50 per kilometer with a minimum charge of €12,-. All above-mentioned prices are excluding VAT.

Written valuations

If you need a written appraisal for your insurance of valuables, inheritance tax, estate settlements or damage claims to comply with legal provisions, we can also take care of this for you. For the preparation of an official valuation report the following rate will apply: €200,- for the first hour or part thereof and € 100,- for each following half hour. Travel allowance costs are €0.50 per kilometer with a minimum charge of €12. All above-mentioned prices are excluding VAT.

Venduehuis valuation days in cities the country

In cooperation with museums and cultural institutions spread over the Netherlands, from Groningen to Maastricht, the Venduehuis regularly organises appraisal days. You can have your valuables appraised and if wished submit your goods for auction. The dates and additional information can be found on our news page.
